

I think it is time for the CW requirement for HF operation to go the way of the Dodo bird. Being able to use CW does not make one a better ham radio operator. Most cases of bad operating I have heard on HF or VHF and UHF have been committed by the older hams who seem to think they are above the law.